

Socci: It appears the Bergoglian Inquisition is winning (at the moment)

(Rorate Caeli) – I don't know if you have noticed, but there is no longer one single counter-current voice in the [Italian] mass-media which reports truthfully what is happening under the Bergoglian regime in the Church. We are under an oppressive Argentine dictatorship.

Those who disturb the Bergoglian Power would appear not to have any right to speak in the media. Even the most important Catholic intellectuals, who criticised Amoris laetitia severely (such as Spaemann, Grygiel and Seifert, close collaborators of John Paul II and Benedict XVI) have remained invisible in the [Italian] media. Their severe criticisms have been silenced. Even the explosive discourse of May 21st by Monsignor Gaenswein – Benedict XVI's secretary and right-hand man – is virtually unobtainable in the media. Just like the critical voices of some theologians, bishops and cardinals.

TOTAL CENSURESHIP. SOMETHING NEVER SEEN BEFORE. IS IT POSSIBLE THAT WE HEAR NO VOICE RAISED IN DENOUNCING THE DICTATORSHIP IMPOSED IN PRAISE AND GLORY OF THE "MERCIFUL" ARGENTINE?

We still have the net – it's true. Thank heaven here it's still possible to write and read the factual truth. And already some Bergoglian clerics are launching anathemas at the net itself, since they are unable to control it and impose their muzzle there as well.

A friend has observed that it's very sad indeed as this Argentine dictatorship is being imposed without the least critical reaction, not even on the part of the laity.

Yet, this is an ingenuous observation as it's precisely the lay secular-media that are the most unrestrained supporters of Bergoglio. They have finally found the one in whom they can realize their dream: the destruction of the Catholic Church. So it is quite obvious they are skinning their hands in applause and in support of him as they silence the opposing voices of the Catholic Resistance.

There is, however, some news to add to this: the Resistance shall win, because Christ shall win. You can be sure of it. It shall not be heresy and apostasy that prevail. Even if they have all the earthly power today.

Today it seems those who want to liquidate the Catholic Faith are winning hands down, but the King of Heaven will make visible the triumph of the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

For this reason, today, we appeal to Our Mother also for the conversion of those who are oppressing the Church and collaborating in the destruction of God's work. We pray for the persecutors, for the salvation of their souls.

Socci: It appears the Bergoglian Inquisition is winning (at the moment)

And let us pray to Our Lady, that She may protect our souls from falsehood and cowardice. Let our entire life and selves be under the mantle of Her Maternal gaze. We entrust everything to Her, She, Who is the Help of Christians and the Queen of Victories.
