

Thank you to all who attended our first live stream Q&A on YouTube. There were some great questions and comments. We covered a lot of ground. The recording of the session is available on YouTube and embedded here. I also embed the 2019 Lecture that I referred to a few times in the session. If you enjoyed this let us know in comments and we can try it another time. Sorry about the camera angle. I could not use the studio setup I use for the Weekly News Roundups until we buy some third party software.
