

Weekly News Roundup: Traditional Mass vs. Vatican II's New Ecclesiology, Cardinal Burke Interview, Lay Men and Women
Instituted as Lectors and Catechists by Francis

This week, CFN's editors discuss:

- Cupich and Roche Confirm: Traditional Mass is Incompatible with Vatican II's New Ecclesiology (source, source, source, source, source, source)
- Cardinal Burke on the Traditional Mass, Vatican II, and the SSPX (source, source)
- Continued Fallout from Traditionis Custodes and the Doubtful Dubia (source, source, source)
- Pope Francis Institutes Lay Men and Women as Lectors and Catechists (source, source)