

Brian McCall and Brian Mershon speak with Libby Ibanez who has witnessed first hand the cancelling of a thriving Traditional Latin Mass Community in Corpus Christi Texas. As an Easter gift in April, the local bishop disbanded the TLM community of St. John's notwithstanding hundreds of regular parishioners, including young families, and thousands of dollars in weekly donations. Yet, this act of tyranny would not prevail and many including Mrs. Ibanez found a new home to continue living and worshiping as Catholics have done for millennia.

The banner features a dark red background with gold and white text and illustrations. In the top left is a QR code. In the top right is an illustration of an open book with Latin text. In the center is an oval medallion containing a religious figure, likely Christ, seated on clouds and holding a book. Below the medallion is a white cross with two figures kneeling in prayer. The text 'SOPHIA INSTITUTE PRESS' is in large, stylized letters. Below this, the text 'Support CFN by using our referral link!' is followed by '15% Off!' and a URL. At the bottom, a small line of text states: 'CFN receives a portion of sales made through the above link.'
