

Interview with Matthew Plese (A Catholic Life) | Who was Fr. Michael Müller?

It was great to be able to speak with Matthew Plese again from A Catholic Life. The interview was centered around the life and work of Fr. Michael Müller, as Matthew has been writing a great series on his works for the paper. I always learn something new when talking with Matthew, and this time it was key details about the exorcism of Nicole Aubrey and some of the greater context of 19th American Roman Catholicism. There are also some key reminders that every Catholic could use, namely: We need to go to mass more! Enjoy the interview. -Murray Rundus
